MIAMI – July 13, 2016 – James C. Moon, a partner with law firm Meland Budwick, P.A., has been listed in Florida Trend magazine's Florida Legal Elite 2016. Specifically, Moon is recognized in the Bankruptcy and Workouts Category.

Florida Trend's Legal Elite is a recognition of Florida's legal leaders as selected by their peers and represents fewer than two percent of active Florida Bar members who practice in Florida.

At Meland Budwick, P.A., Moon focuses his practice on handling a broad variety of complex civil litigation matters, including disputes regarding commercial tenant-in-common financing deals, the defense of RICO claims and all manner of commercial disputes. His bankruptcy practice focuses on creditors' rights, in and out of court workouts, and the representation of debtors, creditors, panel trustees, and official committees in complex Chapter 11 proceedings.

The recipient of many accolades and awards throughout his career, Moon is AV-rated preeminent in his field and has been included in Florida Super Lawyers every year since 2011. He is deeply involved in the legal community and is chair of the Inclusion/Mentoring/Fellowships Committee of The Florida Bar's Business Law Section, and is past president of the Bankruptcy Bar Association of the Southern District of Florida. He received his bachelor's degree and law degree from the University of Connecticut.
