MIAMI – April 8, 2022 – Meland Budwick today announced that Eric Ostroff, Managing Partner and Chair of the Trade Secrets and Intellectual Property Group, has been appointed a key leadership position within The Sedona Conference's Working Group on Trade Secrets. The Sedona Conference is a nonpartisan think tank that gathers the preeminent experts in varied areas of law to publish consensus commentaries on cutting-edge legal issues.

Specifically, Ostroff has been appointed to the Trade Secrets Working Group's Steering Committee. He has been involved in this organization for several years. Most recently, he served as Drafting Team Co-Chair for "The Sedona Conference, Protecting Trade Secrets in Litigation About Them."

> "I am honored to take this leadership role, collaborating with the legal industry's top minds at The Sedona Conference and contributing my knowledge, experience and perspectives to tackle important legal issues in the world of trade secrets," said Ostroff, who focuses his practice on business litigation and intellectual property litigation.

Nationally recognized for his expertise in trade-secrets and noncompete cases, Ostroff helps businesses protect their trade secrets and proprietary information, before and during litigation. He works with businesses to identify their trade secrets and ensure that they are taking all steps necessary to protect this critical information. And he has extensive experience prosecuting and defending trade-secret and noncompete actions nationwide.

Ostroff received a law degree, summa cum laude, in 2004 from the University of Miami School of Law, and a bachelor's degree in 2001 from Emory University.
