

Emily Ebner

Of Counsel

Commercial Litigation, Trade Secrets & IP

Office: 305.358.6363 Fax: 305.358.1221

Email: eebner@melandbudwick.com

About Emily Ebner

Emily W. Ebner, of counsel to Meland Budwick, P.A, focuses her practice on commercial litigation.

After graduating from law school, Emily worked as an attorney at Kaye Scholer LLP in New York City, where she was previously employed as a summer associate. Emily assisted in representing numerous clients, including an international pharmaceutical company in all aspects of high-profile product liability litigation. After working in New York for several years, she relocated with her family to Miami Beach. Emily has worked at several prestigious South Florida law firms, handling a variety of commercial matters, including business litigation, intellectual property, and employment law.

Education

- The George Washington University Law School, J.D. With Honors, 1998
 - o Senior Articles Editor, The George Washington Law Review

- o Recipient of ABA/BNA Labor and Employment Law Award (awarded for highest exam grade)
 - o Honors in Introduction to Advocacy
- The University of Michigan, B.A. With Distinction, 1995
 - o Class Honors, Senior Year
 - o Pi Sigma Alpha Honor Society in Political Science
 - o Sigma Iota Rho Honor Society in International Relations

Publications

- Co-author, Forum Non Conveniens Can Be Used To Disaggregate Mass Action Claims, Product Liability Law & Strategy, September 1999, at 1-4.
- Case Note, Panel Finality Finally Comes to the D.C. Circuit, 65 Geo. Wash. L. Rev. 677 (April/June 1997).

Bar Admissions

- Florida
- New York